

LOU HUANG.

2434 Sueno Way
Fremont, CA 94539
(510) 364-0641

lou@corvalis.net
<http://corvalis.net/>

REFERENCES

Mark Keener, AIA/AICP/PP, Principal
Brown & Keener Urban Design

1315 Walnut Street, Suite 900
Philadelphia, PA 19107
t (215) 751-1133
e mark@bkurbandesign.com

Michael Larice, Associate Professor of Urban Design & City Planning
University of Pennsylvania
Department of City & Regional Planning

102 Meyerson Hall
210 South 34th Street
Philadelphia, PA 19104
t (215) 430-3203
e larice@design.upenn.edu

Jonathan Barnett, Professor of Practice
University of Pennsylvania
Department of City & Regional Planning

102 Meyerson Hall
210 South 34th Street
Philadelphia, PA 19104
t (215) 605-4184
e jonathanbarnett@verizon.net

Max Crome, Principal
Crome Architecture

905 4th Street
San Rafael, CA 94901
t (415) 453-0700
e max@cromearchitecture.com

Mark Keener supervised my work on projects in Philadelphia, and in the cities of North Arlington and East Orange in New Jersey, where we drafted urban design documents that included signage code, form-based code, design principles and guidelines, and alternative plan proposals.

Michael Larice was my academic advisor during the Master's program at the University of Pennsylvania and also led the urban design curriculum. His courses included urban design methods, city planning theory, and case studies in urban design. He was my instructor for the Lower Schuylkill studio project and was my group's advisor for our entry into the ULI Student Urban Design Competition, of which we were finalists.

Professor Jonathan Barnett was the lead instructor for our studio project working in the Tampa-Florida Super Region. Under his guidance, we worked with super-regional leaders and produced a vision document which we presented to over 400 governmental and business leaders at the 2010 Super Regional Leadership Conference in Central Florida.

Max Crome was my supervisor and mentor in architecture. Under his tutelage, I gained experience in schematic design, construction document production, construction administration, and in working directly with clients and vendors. Because I was able to streamline the production of the project's workflow and interact with a demanding client, Max appointed me to be the lead on the account for Peet's Coffee & Tea, a major client.